Time is elusive, evasive, and illusive. It comes and disappears like a flash in the pan. The Year 2021 came and, at the snap of the Lord's fingers, it is folded up. We cannot thank our Shield enough. He has been our Banner all the way. He paddled the canoe of 2021, especially the First Term of the 2021/2022 academic session, with us. Amidst the turbulence, He was there to still the storm. There is nothing we can give to Him that will be commensurate with His special love for us. All we can say is, THANK YOU JESUS!

No doubt, one of our greatest blessings has been YOU. Yes, you were instrumental in the seamless programs we had in the STAR Term. We appreciate your support and trust; your objective observations and constructive feedback have helped us to serve you better. Without you, there won't be Juilliard Academy. Thank you for believing in us and our programmes.

We sincerely commend our students for the tenacity and perseverance. It has been one term of hard work and sheer determination. Their ability to juggle seamlessly between academics, sports, art magnet programmes, and vocational activities is quite laudable. Worthy of note is our seventh graders who were able to acclimatize to the environment without any glitch. They are the real jewels who have displayed tremendous prowess in diverse areas. Sincere appreciation goes to our esteemed members of staff who had helped them settle quickly and hone their potential. Let us take a synopsis of the First Term as well as intimate you with what to expect in the Second Term.

ACADEMICS

It was 9 weeks of rigorous instructions, 2 weeks for midterm assessment and end-of-term examination, 1 week for midterm break and 1 week for closing events. The students defended their projects in Week 10. Extension/Weekend classes were organized for our 9th and 12th graders as well as our 11th and 12th graders that enrolled for international examinations, such as the SAT, TOEFL, and IGCSE. We are hopeful that their results will be quite fantastic to crown the assiduous efforts they put in.

The project topics for next term will be sent to you soon. This is to help both students and parents to deliberate on the topics early enough; thus, meeting with supervisors will commence from Week 1. We trust you to help us drive this as Project is an integral part of their overall API.

12TH GRADE LEADERSHIP CLASS

Our 12th grade is a very sensitive grade level, so we give it the utmost attention. We groom and grill them in preparation for the college life, and by extension, the society. Upon resumption, we commenced the Juilliard Leadership for them, and we appreciate our parents for giving us the maximum support. One of the highlights of the sessions they had this term was the virtual class with our 2016/2017 valedictorian, who is currently on her Master's program in a U.S university after bagging 3.98 out of 4 CGPA in her first degree in the same school. It was an enlightening moment for our jewels.

As they prepare for their WASSCE, UTME, and NECO SSCE, we shall have more seminars that will centre around exam success and tips on soaring high in college for them.

EVENTS

It was indeed a term loaded with lots of events, as we commenced with the New Parents' Orientation and ended with our magical Carol Service. In the course of the term, we had the Students' Orientation Programme, Student Body Election and Swearing-in Ceremony for the prefects, Celebration of International Day of the Girl Child, Independence Day Celebration, the TECHMAS (using technology to celebrate the Christmas), and lots more. The programmes were topnotch.

Juilliard Academy was well represented in a lot of competitions this term (both internally and externally), and the stars that we are, we came out blazing the trail. We organized the Math Pyrate, which produced the King and Queen of Math in Juilliard. Equally, we had our Speech Presentations across grade levels. Some of the external competitions include the AISEN KS 3 & 4 Math and Debating Contest. Yours truly, Juilliard, clinched the FIRST position in the Math contest, and are qualified for the Regional Stage in the Debating Contest come Term 2.

School Fellowship

It was really an avenue to move our jewels closer to God every Wednesday, as the School Fellowship provided us with the platform to instill certain Biblical principles in the students. In the course of the term, we had various spirit-filled speakers address our jewels. In fact, some of our students were selected to anchor some aspects of the programmes.

ACHIEVEMENT AWARDS

In line with the GMD's dream to motivate our jewels in their academics, we started the Achievement Awards after the midterm assessments. The best students in each of the subjects were presented with certificates on the assembly. This innovation has really bolstered the learning pace of our students, as they are contending for the awards in a healthy manner. We shall continue with this, as every child must be reached.

POLICIES

There are several policies that we adhere to, as a school. One of the most important is that we have zero tolerance for bullying – whether from the teachers to students, students to students, or parents to school. We have tried as much as possible to sensitize our staff on our stance on bullying, so we are all on the same page to give you your desired service. In the same vein, we want the parents to work with us in this regard. As much as we are here to protect the interests of both the parents and the students, we sincerely implore our parents to professionally escalate all requests to the management, and we promise to handle them as discreetly and professionally as possible.

Next term, we have designated a week as Anti-Bullying Week, which doubles as our Teens' Week. This will afford us the opportunity to orientate our students the more, as we have well-grounded speakers to demystify the menace of bullying.

Another important aspect of our policies that we hold dear to us is the appearance policy. You will be addressed the way you dress. All our wards are expected to dress in line with our dress code. They are our ambassadors, so they must represent the brand. From next term, any student who flouts the policy on hairdo and uniform will be sent back home on arrival. The hair of the boys should be a low cut that a pen cannot sit in it. All forms of parting and styles are totally frowned at. Also, note that beards and perming are not allowed. For the girls, the hair length should be shoulder level. Nothing more!

We have equally observed that some students are perpetual latecomers. Resumption time is 7:30 a.m., so students are advised to come in early to school. This will help them settle down properly before the events of the day commence. Going forward, perpetual latecomers will get tardy slips.

APOLOGY

We sincerely apologize for the sudden change in the date of our Christmas Carol. The change actually caused a lot of rot in the program. We still maintain our topnotch standard in event hosting, as always. We will ensure we serve you better always. We stand by what we preach!

Success is the result of hard work and prayer. We bless God for crowning our efforts in the just released WAEC results, as God helped our students to pull down the Wall of Jericho of WAEC. Praise the Lord! One of our students made 8A1 and a B2, leaving others with 7A1, 6A1, etc. We are bold to say all of them made their results. To God be the glory! We do not rest on our laurels, as we are committed to producing more outstanding performances in all our examinations ahead.

As an organization, it is a promise and policy to encourage hard work. Therefore, our GMD, in her charismatic leadership and as approved by the Board of Directors, presented our best WAEC student, Zerah Ukoko, a monetary prize of five hundred thousand naira (N500,000.00k) at our closing event.

WAEC REGISTRATION UPDATE

This is to inform all our twelfth graders' parents that all their wards are expected to have their National Identification Numbers (NINs) for the 2022 registration. Please note that any student who has not acquired the NIN will not be eligible for registration, as this is mandated by the exam body.

It is a season of joy!

We had a smooth take off and by God's grace it was a term free of incidences; although we had a week stay home which was not planned for, we bridged the gap and ensured we covered the programs as scheduled for the term.

Our theme for the term was: Strive to Achieve A Resounding Success (STARS) and indeed our students and staff worked together to achieve this goal. We appreciate our royals for their hard work, tenacity and drive towards excellence. We are humbled by the accolades and encomiums.

Project topics were assigned to our royals at the start of the term, they worked on them with your support and supervision by our teachers and we recorded some very amazing ideas which we look forward to seeing come to fruition.

Juilliard Business School
Art Magnet Program

This term, we decided to make some changes in the hope of coming up with better and more exciting skills and activities. The choice of skills to learn is now by interest other than by grade level, and we had the students suggest skills they would love to see included, in line with our vision for them. Based on the result of the polls, we have:

Robotics, Tech Geeks, Beauticians and Home Makers for Juilliard Business School; Dance, Music, Drama and Creative Arts for Art Magnet Program.

Our aim is to expose our students to the rudiments of these skills; they learn and practice for the period of a session, and then we give them the opportunity to showcase what they have learned for us all to see. We believe that beyond academics, young people have an edge in today's world if they can acquire skills they can easily turn into money making ventures whenever the need arises. We brought in facilitators who know their onions and the results have been amazing. We recorded such usually high level of enthusiasm in both students and facilitators/ instructors and the visuals from the sessions speak for themselves.

We cannot find enough words to thank you for your unwavering support through the term. We appreciate your belief in us and for standing by us through thick and thin, particularly at the time we experienced hiccups in pick up and drop off of your wards, and we are glad to say we have improved in that regard.

Please note that effective second term, transportation to Ogudu and its environs would increase from Eighty Thousand Naira (N80 000.00) to One Hundred Thousand Naira (N100 000.00), while one way will be Fifty Thousand Naira (N50 000.00).

Thank you so much for your understanding.

We look forward to doing even better in the coming term and seeing Juilliard Academy take its place amongst the very best. Have yourselves a very merry Christmas and a new year filled with miracles!
